

Tired of being anxious

2 Corinthians 2:14

Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

When fighting the good fight of faith, keep in mind that it's in your mind that this battle is fought. Your life will be governed by what dominates in your mind. Will it be the Word of God, or the lies of Satan? The decision is yours.

If you want the Word to dominate, decide now to resist the devil when he comes to sow doubts. Do not surrender to the pressure of the circumstances that the adversary places before you. Decide from the beginning that you will not succumb to those tests. Take a stand and remain steadfast in the promises of God.

When thoughts contrary to God's will arise, reject them. And above all, don't be anxious. To be anxious is to give in to Satan's thoughts. If you notice that you start to feel anxious, stop immediately. Replace thoughts of worry, fear and doubt with the Word.

Be certain that Satan will try to constantly tell you that your situation is irreparable. He will persist with his intentions in order to make you doubt and make you feel discouraged and defeated. But if you don't let yourself, be convinced by the adversary's tactics and lies, he won't be able to gain any ground in your life.

God has promised that He will always lead you to triumph in Christ. Victory over any adversity you face today, is assured. Make a decision, right now, to be victorious, so that you may manifest everywhere the knowledge of the victory in Christ.
